Pastor's Message

One word, PEACE, recurs in today's readings. In Isaiah, peace flows like a river through the ideal future landscape that he predicts. Then St Paul prays for peace for all who follow Christ ("peace be upon them, and mercy"). And when sending out his disciples, Jesus says their first message must be: "Peace to this house."

But while most people agree that peace must be sought, many seem to want peace only on their own rigid terms. Even many Christians hardly give it more than lip service. Bitter divisions are obvious in the epistle to the Galatians. A radically conservative Jewish-Christian group want the Church to keep the Jewish rite of circumcision, while others like Paul considered that ritual as now obsolete, replaced by baptism. Such arguments and misunderstandings are probably unavoidable. Every age in the Church has its own controversies and sectarian divisions, often based on arrogant refusal to hear competing visions of what God requires of us. Notice how, when the first disciples returned to Jesus, flushed with joy from their success, they were too proud of the people's response to their preaching. They were in danger of arrogance and needed his word of guidance. Pride is far from the poverty of spirit taught by Jesus. It leaves us less compassionate towards a world which needs to know the compassion of Christ.

The splendour of this joyful hymn in Isaiah is that it comes from the Suffering Servant. It is the joy of one who has suffered from hatred and rejection, and yet acts as a reconciler. Paul appreciates this paradox: "The only thing I boast about is the cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, through which the world is crucified to me, and I to the world."

Christian peacemakers and servants of the Gospel must be prepared for their share of the cross. The total, self-emptying service shown by Christ shows us how to behave. We need a simple lifestyle, prepared for service and not tied to material things: "no purse, no haversack, no sandals." He rules out all pride and arrogance. Even those who reject him should be loved and served in his name. The generosity of God must remain our message. In an often cruel world, we can do our part only by remembering Jesus, staying close to him.

God Bless, Fr Mark Franklin

NAIDOC Week 2025

NAIDOC Week celebrations are held across Australia in the first week of July each year (Sunday to Sunday – this year, 6th – 13th July), to celebrate and recognise the history, culture and achievements of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples. NAIDOC Week is an opportunity for all Australians to learn about First Nations cultures and histories and participate in celebrations of the oldest, continuous living cultures on earth. You can support and get to know your local Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander communities through activities and events held across the country. For more information, go to: www.naidoc.org.au

Safeguarding Training for Parish Volunteers

Online on Tuesday 8th July from 6:00pm – 8:00pm

Parishioners currently registered as volunteers with Our Lady of the Rosary Parish Kenmore & Moggill will have recently received a text message from the Archdiocese inviting you to attend an online safeguarding training session. This message was sent to all registered volunteers regardless of whether your training is current, or due for renewal.

There have been a number of significant updates to the safeguarding training for volunteers and as such it is highly recommended that you participate in this upcoming session if you are able to. Your training record will be updated accordingly with future refresher training timelines adjusted to reflect your participation.

For those not able to join this online session, there will be further opportunities and other methods for completing the training as it falls due for renewal.

To join the online training, please go to: <https://tinyurl.com/joinsafeguarding1>
